

ATMA RAM SANATAN DHARMA COLLEGE (UNIVERSITY OF DELHI)

Technology Business Incubator

The Technology Business Incubator (TBI) at ARSD College is dedicated to fostering a culture of innovation and entrepreneurship among students, researchers, and faculty. It serves as a launchpad for early-stage startups by offering mentorship, infrastructural support, and meaningful networking opportunities. It also acts as a vital bridge between academia and industry, nurturing promising business ideas and guiding them toward becoming successful ventures.

To strengthen this vision, the TBI Committee convened several strategic meetings to cultivate a dynamic entrepreneurial ecosystem within the college. These discussions emphasised the importance of creating an enabling environment that supports ideation, experimentation, and enterprise-building.

The committee invited industry professionals to share their knowledge and experiences in pursuit of expert insights. Mr. Mrigank Singh, entrepreneur and formerly associated with the TBI IISER, Mohali, engaged in an enriching dialogue with students and faculty and gave practical advice and strategic recommendations, providing valuable direction for enhancing ARSD's TBI mentoring framework.

The initiative also received enthusiastic support from Mr. Mayank Sultania, a distinguished alumnus of the college and Director of AKMV Consultants Pvt. Ltd. Recognising the potential of the incubator, he offered to collaborate with TBI-ARSD to boost its operational capabilities. The committee welcomed this partnership, viewing it as a significant step toward building a robust and sustainable incubation model.
