Comparative Political Systems DSC-17	4	3	1	-	Passed Class XII	Nil

Learning Objectives

The aim of this course is to train students in the application of comparative methods to the study of different political systems with respect to institutions and their functioning in these countries from a comparative perspective. Students will be familiarised with the defining features like political tradition, state formation, constitution and division of power, structure of government, electoral system, political parties, party system, and the contemporary social and economic challenges in these societies.

Learning outcomes

This paper will provide students with a comprehensive understanding of a range of political systems from different continents in a historical context. The students will engage in studying different countries in detail with reference to their political tradition and state formation, constitution and division of power, political parties and elections, political economy and contemporary challenges. The critical analysis of different political systems will delineate the institutional structures, processes and their functioning in these systems. The course content would also help students develop analytical skills to understand not just the similarities and differences but the uniqueness of some cases as well that highlight how the matrix of diverse determinants and variables result in different discourses in different countries.

		Lecture	Tutorial	Practical/ Practice
India’s Foreign Policy: Challenges and Strategies DSC 18	4	3	1	-	Passed Class XII	Nil

Learning Objectives

This course seeks to equip students to engage with the key sources, theoretical underpinnings, and the structural/functional dimensions of the foreign policymaking processes in India. Theoretical grounding will apprise students about the shift in India’s identity as a postcolonial state to an ‘emerging power’ in the contemporary multipolar world. It will familiarize the students with the domestic, regional and international drivers and constraints; how these intersect and have shaped the evolution and practice of India’s foreign policy. Students will learn about critical issues and developments of its foreign policy at the bilateral, regional, and global levels with a special focus on India’s bargaining strategies and positioning in international climate change negotiations, international economic governance and international security regimes. It will develop analytical skills among the students to comprehend the impending foreign policy conundrums and give students a basic yet nuanced understanding of India’s opportunities and challenges in its foreign policymaking in the contemporary world.

Learning outcomes

At the end of this course, the students would have acquired:

- € basic knowledge of the sources, theoretical perspectives and key drivers of India’s foreign policy.
- € analyse the opportunities and challenges India faces in securing its interests as an emerging global power.
- € an insight about India’s position in changing global power equations particularly its bilateral ties with powerful nations like the US and Russia along with India’s largest neighbour, China.
- € an enhanced understanding of India’s sub-regional, regional, and global issues of concern.

- € grasp of India's negotiation strategies in dealing with global trade, environment, and security regimes.
- € recognise the ways in which India deploys its soft power in the world.
