On 23 February 2017, Dr. Syed Mubin Zehra met third year English (Hons) students to discuss the works of Pakistani poet Kishwar Naheed. She read out Naheed's poetry in the original Urdu and discussed the politics of language and translation, Naheed's provocative use of form and her radical intervention in the field of Urdu poetry. The students learnt a different aspect of Naheed's poetry reading it in its original form. Many original words from Urdu brought to the table the limitations of translation too. It was an enlightening discussion for the students.
