Indian Constitutional History and Freedom of Speech

Date of Program: 12th January, 2019

No. of Participants: 107

Organized by: Republica, Association of Political Science

Speaker: Ms Disha Chaudhary

The workshop inaugurated by lighting of the lamp to commemorate the occasion. In her inclusive and detailed presentation on the importance of history of the Constitution and she highlighted presented CLPR's website, which makes the early Constitutional Assembly Debates easily accessible to all. Dr. Anamika Prasad gave the welcome address, in which she highlighted the importance of the law-making process and civic governance in India. She also touched on some stalwarts of the Constituent Assembly and how important each one's role was in giving the Constitution its shape. The workshop began with Chaudhary giving a brief overview of CLPR and its work. She then highlighted the importance of reading and analysing the history of the Constitution, and how important it is to critically engage with it. It helps us to know why certain articles are the way they are; why some provisions were explicitly excluded and others included. The Constitution is worded in such a manner that it leaves it open for interpretation and changes in accordance to the need of the future. It is to be understood in both letter and spirit. The workshop comprised of an exercise that familiarised the participants with the CAD India website and how it could come to great use. Worksheets were distributed that had questions related to the Freedom of Speech and the audience navigated through the website to answer and discuss those questions. The participants solved the worksheets and gained first-hand experience in using the CAD India website and the various filters that the website offers to make the search extremely easy and convenient. The workshop ended with a representative of the Praja Foundation informing the participants about an upcoming fellowship that the foundation is offering to students in Delhi. Overall, the workshop was highly interactive and had lots to offer to the participants, especially concerning the CAD India website. The workshop ended by the formal vote of thanks by Dr. Amit Singh.
