Department of economics under the aegis of Internal quality assurance cell (IQAC) has conducted two days workshop on “R Studio” the statistical software on 16th-17th September 2021. The purpose of this workshop was to provide a proper knowledge and hand in practice to our undergraduate students about how to deal with and analyze big data set for their research purpose by using R software. More than 90 students including faculty members were participated in the workshop. Mr. Smruti Ranjan Sahoo, Research Scholar from Centre for Development Studies (CDS) Trivandrum, Kerla, was the resource person for this two-day workshop. The two-day session handled by Mr. Sahoo covered the major aspects of handling a user-friendly analytical software like R. The topics covered included a basic introduction to various data analysis software, a brief history of the software, its advantages over its counterparts and went on to cover advanced and complicated topics like graphics, ggplot, data entry in R, linear regression and modelling through R, analytical tests like the F test, the Bai-Perron test etc. The session was a great boost to students and helped immensely in relating the syllabus to real world applications in academia.
