COVID came as a pandemic and evolved the new NEWs in the human kind. When all the avenues of teaching and learning came to all halt, online learning came to the rescue of the human kind. It refers to the tutor and the students connected virtually through various apps and modes online from the comfort of their homes. This seemed to be a far-fetched dream but the internet has made it possible.

In the dark times of pandemic online learning has altogether become more significant and innovative to boost the learning process of students. Online learning has paved the way for students who are in remote areas to access quality education.

Dr Lalita Josyula was the speaker for this session and she explained the benefits of online learning and how important it has become these days.
